Dear Clyde:

Attached are copies of the Final Report of the COINS Review which we undertook for the IRAC earlier this year.

The objective of the review was to evaluate the ability of COINS to satisfy requirements of the user community and to recommend actions for the future. The conclusions of the review, and the recommendations are contained in a two-page summary at the beginning of the report for your convenience.

With the support of the DCI we plan to continue along the lines recommended in the report.
